

21. When an actual budget deficit exceeds the planned budget deficit, this may be due to
- (a) a change in government resulting in a change in fiscal policy objectives.
 - (b) economic growth exceeding expectations, resulting in greater tax revenue.
 - (c) an improvement in the terms of trade index, resulting in greater tax revenue.
 - (d) increases in the unemployment rate, resulting in greater welfare spending.