

8. A distinguishing feature of strong acids is that they
- (a) produce high concentrations of hydronium ions (H_3O^+) in solution.
 - (b) have high acidity constants.
 - (c) contain loosely-held hydrogen ions (H^+) in solution.
 - (d) ionise rather than dissociate in water.